The Humanist Society: The Social Blueprint for Self-Actualization

I leave you with the full song from the book: Listen, listen Remember the wane Of sun's fury and waving grain We fell and fell And danced along To croon a knell Of rights and wrongs And My son, my son Remember the burn When leaves were fire and seasons turned We fell and fell And sang a song To weave a cell All autumn long And Down in the vale Hear the reaper swing, the reaper swing the reaper swing Down in the vale Hear the reaper sing A tale of winter long My girl, my girl Remember the chill When rains froze and snows did kill We fell and fell And danced along Through icy hell To their winter song My love, my love Remember the cries When winter died for spring skies They roared and roared Bur we grabbed our seed And sowed a song Against their greed My son, my son Remember the chains When gold ruled with iron reigns We roared and roared And twisted and screamed For ours, a vale of better dreams And Down in the vale Hear the reaper swing, the reaper swing the reaper swing. Contemporary body piercing practices
